Tigers Hold Heights To 20-20 Deadlock

By PAUL SMALLWOOD
HERALD STAFF WRITER

A fired up gang of Circleville footballers knocked the props from under Franklin Heights here last night for an early 20-0 lead, but then had to fight desperately for a 20-20 deadlock as the visiting Falcons cut loose for three touchdowns in the last quarter.

The Tigers, as different from day as night in comparison to last week's showing at Springfield, stunned the strong Franklin Heights crew with one touchdown in the first half and two in the third quarter to take what appeared to be a safe lead.

However, as he game rolled into the final quarter the Falcons quickly made it known the game was far from over. Within a matter of about five minutes, the Franklin Countians twisted the Tigers' tale for three touchdowns and two extra points to even things.

The Falcons' last touchdown came with 4:59 still remaining to be played — plenty of time for them to rock the Tigers at the clip they were going. They played the clock right, got the ball with three minutes to go, moved deep into Circleville territory, but then saw their hopes fade when the Tigers' Freddie Moore stole the ball from a Falcon pass receiver on the Circleville 15 with 28 seconds left.

A thrill-a-second prevailed in the closing minutes with both teams sparring furiously to land a knock-out punch. Circleville dominated play most of the first three quarters, but Franklin Heights made up for a slow start by exploding all over the field in the final chapter.

Gary "The Horse" Gabriel served as a one-man wrecking crew as he churned new life into the Falcons. The 215-pound bruising full-back was almost unstoppable in the last stages of the game.

Fireworks started to rocket from all quarters when Gabriel broke loose up the middle for 24 yards and a touchdown. The game reached a hectic stage as the Falcons, known as a "second half" team, recovered two straight on-side kicks to keep the Tigers in hot water.

Both times the on-side recoveries led to Franklin Heights touchdowns. The visitors tried the short kick for the third time following their last TD, but CHS End Jake Bailey tucked the ball in an almost broke away before he was halted on Heights' 46.

The Falcons recovered the first short kick on their own 47 and promptly moved for their second touchdown in six plays. The following kick was a repeat act and again the cagey enemy pounced on the free ball, this time on Circleville's 49.

In three plays they went in for third touchdown as Halfback Roger Carper went the last 27 yards on a sweep to knot the count at 20-20.

A HUSH fell over the crowd as the Falcons lined up for the all-important try for points after touch down. They gambled with a run and lost the winning opportunity as the ball was fumbled.

Circleville, playing like a team rebuilt from the ground up, turned in a splendid performance throughout. The Tigers bristled in the first three quarters to hold the favored Falcons to a standstill and take advantage of several breaks which they made for themselves.

The first opportunity came early in the second quarter when Rupert Rudd boomed one of several nice punts to the Falcons' seven. The visitors tried to punt out, but Bailey hauled in the kick on the 50 and twisted and turned his way to the enemy 25.

Garold Dade, Phil Wing and Moore combined to move the pigskin to the nine and a Franklin Heights offense set the ball on the three. Three plays later Dade went in from a yard out. A pass from Dave Hannans to Dade for the extras fell short, but it was evident the Tigers were a different ball team from last Friday.

Some alert play in the third quarter gave the Tigers two more touchdowns. They recovered a fumble on the 50, but were forced to punt after failing to move. Franklin Heights bobbled the kick and Dade, running downfield at full speed, pounced on the loose ball on the Heights 11.

Dade then reeled off nine yards in two carries and Wing crashed over on the third play. Waple's pass to Bailey for extra points was completed, but the attempt was short of the goal line.

ON the first play from scrimmage following the kickoff Franklin Heights fumbled and Rudd fell on the pigskin on the Falcons' 45.

Five plays later the Tigers went in for their third TD, with Dade shooting 23 yards on a neat inside reverse for the tally. The score was set up when Waple snapped a quick pass to Bailey which gained 25 yards. Circleville made it 20-0 as Waple hit Bailey with the same quick pass for the conversion points.

Dade's second touchdown of the night was the result of a huge hole opened in the Falcon line by Rudd, Danny Moffitt and John Williams. The CHS seatback darted through behind the blocks, then simply outran the enemy secondary.

Circleville almost fashioned another break after the next kick-off. Moore, playing a corner line-backer, intercepted a Dennis Hysell pass on the Circleville 46 to spark the move.

On the next play from scrimmage, the breaks started going in (Continued on Sports Page)

U.S. Business Is Affected By Campaign

Sentiment Seesaws With Divergent Views On Eve of Election

NEW YORK (AP) — Business sentiment seesawed this week under the weight of election campaign stresses and divergent views on the economic outlook.

The stock market apparently felt it had digested enough possibilities of the election's outcome and mounted a moderate rally.

It found encouragement in announcement of private and government speeding plans but also took notice of some rather dim views of what is ahead.

General Motors Chairman Fredrick G. Donner disclosed plans to spend $1.25 billion in the U.S. and abroad for new plants, machinery, equipment and tooling in 1961. This would be $50 million above this year's outlay. About $1 billion would be spent in the United States.

Donner predicted passenger car sales would reach 7 million in 1961. Sales this year are expected to run between 6.6 and 6.8 million.

The government added $55 million to the amount to be spent this fiscal year on developing the B50 supersonic bomber. This makes $265 million available for the program between now and June 30.

Corporate earnings for the first nine months of this year exceeded last year by about two percent, and profits for the fourth quarter may come close to the 1959 period, a survey showed. However, the third and fourth quarters last year were dulled by steel and copper strikes.

A survey of manufacturers showed they look for increased orders, billings and profits in the first half of 1961. And the machine tool industry said the balance of this year may be the best for new orders in a long time.

On the other hand, the First National City Bank of New York said it found that economic trends have shifted from a sideways movement to a moderate downturn.

A majority of the nation's leading economists, responding to an inquiry from F.W. Dodge Corp., a construction and marketing statistical agency, said they foresee a mild recession between now and the end of 1961.

A decline in freight loadings of the rail and truck industries reflected a slowing business trend.

Safe Cracked At Ashville

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department today investigated a safe cracking job at the Ashville Lumber Co.

Deputy Dwight Radcliff said the lumber company office and the safe were thoroughly ransacked last night.

Loot was not immediately determined pending further investigation. Tom Wagner of the London Bureau of Criminal Identification was called to the scene.

The safe job marked the second one in Pickaway County this week. Wednesday night a vault was "peeled" at the Ivan Hill Grain Co. in Derby where about $328 was taken.

"It Was Sad in Dallas," Sen. Johnson Recalls

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Sen. Lyndon Johnson, the democratic vice-presidential nominee, flew into Houston late Friday night and told a small crowd that greeted him he was glad they did not see three anti-Johnson demonstrations in Dallas.

"It was sad in Dallas — you wouldn't have believed you were in Texas," he said.

Johnson referred specifically to a crowd of about 1,000 persons who booed, jostled and heckled him and his wife, Lady Bird, as they attempted to enter a Dallas hotel ballroom.

DeGaulle Edict Angers French

Chief Says Algerians Slated To Rule Algeria

PARIS (AP) — Angry outcries from leftist and rightist extremists today greeted President Charles de Gaulle's threat to take emergency powers and call a national referendum on a new course for Algeria.

In a nationwide radio and television address Friday night the 69-year-old soldier-president declared his policy in Algeria, now in its seventh year of war with nationalist rebels, "no longer leads to an Algeria governed by metropolitan France, but an Algerian Algeria."

In the end, he said, "responsibility for Algerian affairs, at every level, will be assumed by Algerians" and the country will have "its own government, its own institutions, its own laws."

To achieve this, he threatened to invoke powers entrusted to him by the constitution, to take over the nation in single-handed rule, dissolve Parliament and test his policy in a national referendum if he decides extremists pose a "grave threat" to the nation.

"If France loses her head she would slide toward chaos," he said, apparently referring to extremist opposition.

De Gaulle's speech disclosed that he no longer believes it possible that Algeria can remain a part of France as demanded by rightists who twice have staged rebellions in Algiers in an effort to enforce a stiffer policy on the Paris government.

A year ago De Gaulle posed three choices to the Algerians — union with France, local autonomy or independence.

Friday night he indicated he believes the first choice no longer is practicable. As for the third choice, he said if the Algerians voted for independence "we would not strain ourselves to stay by force."

His new attitude outraged the rightists, who want to keep Algeria French at all costs, and displeased leftists, who are demanding negotiations to end the war at once.

Deadlocked Jury Gets Judge's View

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The jurors are still divided, but the judge has told them in a brief and turbulent session of the Finch trial that he believes a murder was committed and he doesn't believe the defendants.

As they opened their 17th day of deliberation at the second trial of Dr. R. Bernard Finch and Carole Tregoff today, the jurors had these electrifying developments behind them:

1. Superior Court Judge LeRoy Dawson, interrupting deliberations Friday, called in the jury and said: "The explanation given by the defendant Finch as to the circumstances surrounding the firing of the fatal shot to me does not sound reasonable in any of its aspects. And it appears to me to have been concocted by him in an attempt to justify what is shown by the evidence, in my opinion, to be the wilful and deliberate taking of a human life" — that of the doctor's wife, Barbara Jean Finch.

2. Defense attorney Grant B. Cooper twice jumped from his chair to object to the judge's statement — accusing him of invading the jury's province — and was twice cited by Dawson for contempt.

The defendants sobbed at the counsel table upon hearing the judge's statement.

Finch, 42, and Miss Tregoff, 23, his ex-mistress, are accused of killing Mrs. Finch to avoid a costly divorce settlement. Finch testified that he and Carole went to see Mrs. Finch to talk about divorce and that she was shot accidentally in a struggle over the gun she had pulled.

Dawson emphasized the jury was not bound to abide by his views. But he said he was entitled to comment under the law and the state constitution.

One point covered by the judge was the testimony of John Patrick Cody, a Minneapolis hoodlum who was a key state witness. Cody testified Finch and Miss Tregoff paid him to kill Mrs. Finch.

The defendants say they hired Cody to try to seduce Mrs. Finch or in some other way to get evidence that could be used against her in a divorce action.

"To my mind," the judge said, "the testimony given by the witness John Cody regarding the purpose for which he was employed by the defendants was much more believable than the testimony of the two defendants."

The Democratic platform, the President declared in a speech televised nationally by NBC, would mean "swollen costs and mushrooming expenditures."

"Our opponents, of course, are experts at assuring us that neither higher taxes nor deficit spending will be used to meet additional costs. But all history shows the absurdity of this claim."

"This is a time for woodshed honesty — even if the American people have to apply a little woodshed discipline to get it. Unless they do, the American family will pay the costs of its family budget because either federal taxes will skyrocket once again or the cheap dollar and higher prices will return."

The top contribution by an Ohioan to the Democrats was $1,500 by Howard M. Metzbaum, Union Commerce Building, Cleveland.

Fred Braddock of Washington C.H. gave $100 to the GOP.

Some Predict Dick Will Win; Others OK Jack

But Roper Maintains Neither Candidate Holds Clear Lead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans with a presidential preference could find a poll to suit their tastes today, whether their choice was Richard M. Nixon or John F. Kennedy.

Professional polls, newspaper polls, college campus polls and miscellaneous other straw vote polls showed various results even though the election itself is only three days away.

Pollster Elmo Roper headed into the final pre-election weekend with a conclusion, "There's not a clear lead by either candidate."

Roper's latest figures, from an Oct. 24 nationwide pulsetaking, showed 46 per cent for Republican Nixon, 44.5 per cent for Democrat Kennedy and 9.4 per cent undecided. But a closer analysis of the undecided vote gave this revised picture: Kennedy 48.5 per cent, Nixon 47.5 per cent, undecided 4 per cent.

"The 4 per cent undecided could make an electoral college landslide either way," Roper added.

Kennedy boosters could take cheer from George Gallup's report this week of "a dramatic shift" toward the Democratic slate in the campaign home-stretch. Gallup said his latest nationwide poll, tabulated from Oct. 20-26 interviews, indicated that of those likely to vote and showing a preference, 53 per cent picked Kennedy and 47 per cent Nixon compared with a 50-50 split found in an early October sampling.

Surveys published by three national magazines this week found Kennedy ahead. Time magazine's correspondents figured Kennedy was leading in states with 306 electoral votes, Nixon in states with 149. Needed to win: 269.

Newsweek said 50 top Washington correspondents predicted Kennedy would win compared with 10 forecasting a Nixon victory. It said political experts in 50 states estimated Kennedy would get 278 electoral votes, Nixon 159, and 100 votes could go either way.

U.S. News and World Report rated Kennedy ahead in states with 282 votes, Nixon ahead in states with 205 votes and 50 votes doubtful.

Nixon backers could take heart from a poll of the nation's newspaper editors and publishers conducted by Publishers' Auxiliary, a weekly trade newspaper which announced results Nov. 3 from nearly 4,000 of the 10,703 ballots sent to newspaper executives.

Publishers' Auxiliary said weekly newspaper editors and publishers figure Nixon will win in what "could be called a near landslide" with 416 electoral votes against 115 for Kennedy.

Among executives of daily newspapers, it said, Nixon was picked as the victor by a somewhat smaller margin — 350 electoral votes compared with 147 for Kennedy.

The American Society of Newspaper Editors published a poll of its members, taken before Oct. 20, which produced a majority opinion that Nixon will win 314 electoral votes, Kennedy 209.

Guntoters Nabbed In Kennedy Parade

CHICAGO (AP) — Two men carrying loaded guns were snatched by police from mobs swirling in advance and abreast of Sen. John F. Kennedy in a parade Friday night through Chicago's Loop.

A platoon of security guards wrestled one man to the ground. An officer said he spotted him joggling along with the crowd within 20 feet of Kennedy's open convertible.

"When he saw me," said patrolman Vincent Moretti, "he put his hand in his pocket and then started to run. I had to tackle him and then about 20 officers jumped in." A loaded automatic was found in his pocket.

The man, who said he was Puerto Rican, was seized as Kennedy approached the Chicago Stadium to address a huge rally.

Vote for Progress

(An Editorial)

Very few persons will come out against progress. Businessman, housewife, farmer and professional man all agree that we should move forward.

However, when it comes to paying for the improvement it's a different story. Then some begin to hedge. They say, "We can't afford it. Taxes are too high. They didn't need those things when I was a kid."

That is the short-sighted viewpoint. The true facts are that improvement (or progress) doesn't cost us. It's an investment that is returned to us many times the original stake.

That is why The Circleville Herald urges Pickaway County citizens to approve the following vital issues in their own areas:

The $550,000 Circleville school bond issue;
The Circleville city one-mill operating renewal;
The Teays Valley $1,760,000 school bond issue;
The Logan Elm 2-mill school operating levy.

Voters To Decide On One-Mill Levy

Circleville city voters will have a chance Tuesday to vote on a one-mill levy for city operating expenses.

This is a renewal of a levy which expires December 31. Approval of the levy will not mean an increase in taxes.

The city has been receiving about $22,000 each year for the last three years from the levy. It is used for General Fund purposes, such as the police Department, Fire Department and Street Department.

In order for the city to maintain its services at the present level the levy will have to be approved.

Should voters fail to approve the levy, it is certain that some services will have to be curtailed. It is likely the street program will suffer.

MUCH General Fund money is appropriated for the Service Department's street program. That is in addition to the auto license fees and gasoline taxes which is used exclusively for street work. If the levy fails appropriations to the Service Department will probably be cut.

City officials today pointed out that this levy has no connection with the proposed expansion of the Water system. That program would be financed by the Water Department.

The one-mill levy costs city taxpayers $1 per $1,000 of taxable valuation, or about $7.50 a year for a $15,000 property.

Cardinals Deny Any Rivalry In Politics

NEW YORK (AP) — Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York and Cardinal Richard Cushing of Boston deny published reports that rivalry exists between the two Roman Catholic archbishops over a choice for president.

The two cardinals issued a joint statement Friday denying "any such rivalry on any level."

Since 1925, when Cardinals Spellman and Cushing served together as curators, they have been close friends. Cardinal Cushing succeeded Cardinal Spellman as auxiliary bishop of Boston when the latter moved to New York.

The Cardinals' statement was prompted by a column by John Crosby in Friday's New York Herald Tribune and a story by Wayne Phillips in Wednesday's New York Times.

Crosby wrote that Cardinal Spellman is for Vice President Richard M. Nixon while Cardinal Cushing is for Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Kennedy is a Catholic and Nixon a Quaker.

The Times story quoted a "Catholic source" as saying there was coolness toward Kennedy among some Catholics in New York.

The two cardinals issued a statement which said in part: "We deny absolutely any such rivalry on any level whatsoever and we protest with all our power against such statements and all that they insinuate."

CFD Tackles Rugged Job in Storage Bin

The Circleville Fire Department tackled one of its toughest jobs in a long time early today.

At 5:05 a. m. the fire fighters were called to the Pickaway Grain Co. where a motor was burning high up on the inside of the firm's huge grain storage bin. Getting to the scene of the blaze was no easy task.

Damage to the motor was estimated at about $60. Firemen were able to prevent a serious fire once they reached the high altitude.

Chief Palmer Wise and his crew used five-gallon water pump tanks. They ascended about 70 feet up by an elevator lift, then climbed a ladder the rest of the way.

ALL the firemen came out of the ordeal soaking wet. Chief Wise said a good portion of the water they sprayed upward came down on top of them. He said temperature inside the large concrete structure must have been around 150 degrees.

The firemen stayed at the scene for about an hour before they were satisfied the blaze was extinguished.

U.N., Congo Officials Booked for Conference

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld confers today with the head of the U. N. Congo mission amid charges the United Nations is trying to place the new African country under its trusteeship.

Pascal Kappella, Congo information minister, told his nation by radio Friday there was a "sinister plot to invade the Congo" and place it under a U. N. trusteeship. He said an invasion by Ghanaian, Guinean and Moroccan troops was imminent and called on all Congolese to "defend our republic to the death."

Held here today is Alvin M. Clark, 20, Pittsburgh, Pa. He was picked up at 1:58 a. m. today by Patrolman Wesley Barton on Northridge Road.

Barton said the car Clark was driving had expired Colorado license plates. Further investigation disclosed he was AWOL from Lowery Air Force base in Colorado.

Officers said Clark later admitted he passed bad checks amounting to about $800. They said his forgeries allegedly were conducted in Colorado, Wyoming, Missouri, Iowa and Indiana.

BARTON said the car was rented in Colorado, but that it was long overdue for return to the owning firm.

It marked the second recovery of missing cars in two days for local police and the apprehension of both drivers. Thursday Patrolman Donald Adams stopped a stolen car on E. Franklin St.

'Love and Law' Heads Topic At First EUB Tomorrow

"Too Late for Law — Too Soon for Love" has been chosen by the Rev. O. F. Gibbs for his sermon subject to be delivered Sunday morning in First Evangelical United Brethren Church. The service begins at 9:30 a. m.

The Fidelis Chorus, directed by Miss Lucille Kirkwood, will sing, "Make Me a Blessing" (Schuler).

Mrs. Verneal Thomas, organist, announces the following numbers: prelude, "Lift Thine Eyes (Clarke); offertory, "wonderful Peace" (Frick); and postlude, "Festival March" (Richolson).

Hymns to be sung by the congregation include, "Love Divine, All Loves Excelling", "He is so Precious to Me", "Love Lifted Me", and "More Love to Thee, O Christ". Edwin Richardson will assist the pastor in the worship service.

Sunday school in the children's department will convene in the service center at 9:25 a. m. with Mrs. Robert Dummard Mrs. Donald Johnson in charge.

Church school in the youth and adult departments will meet following the worship service. Nursery care is provided during both the worship service and Sunday school.

The Youth Fellowship will meet in the service center at 6:30 p. m. with Joan Gibbs, in charge.

Presbyterian

"The Orderly Mind" is the theme for the 10:30 a. m. hour of worship at the Presbyterian Church the Sunday before election day.

Much thinking is required of citizens in this era wherein Christian history is much in the making. If our thinking is the product of disorderly minds, we are headed for serious trouble.

Our Lord warns against hypocrisy and fear of truth. An orderly mind, He says, considers the evaluation of human life and welfare in terms not of experience but of the value of people in the heart of God. His Holy Spirit is not to be blasphemed by our calculating desire for gain or personal advantage.

He warns against covetousness: "Life consists not in the abundance of possessions." The orderly mind lays up treasure in heaven; seeks the welfare of God's Kingdom among men. The orderly mind does not run to worry; does not provoke hatred but prepares the way of the Lord in the hearts of men.

The Rev. Donald Mitchell will develop this theme from the Gospel according to St. Luke, chapter 12, which gives the basic attitude for Christian stewardship.

Hymns sung by the congregation will include "Faith of Our Fathers", "Soldiers of Christ Arise", and "Rise Up O Men of God".

Mrs. Theodore L. Huston, the organist, will play the following: "Andante Cantabile" from the Fourth Symphony by Widor for the prelude, offertory, "Air from Overture in D" by Bach and for the postlude "Unity Eternal" by Rines.

At 5:45 p. m. members of the church will meet for a Family Night Supper. Dr. Charles Hull, chairman Every Member Canvass, will be in charge. This is an annual affair and among other items of interest on the program will be a film in color and sound entitled, "The Hidden Heart".

Church of Nazarene

The Sunday School hour, convening at 9:30 a. m. is the beginning of the Sabbath Day services at the Church of the Nazarene. This session is under the direction of Dawson Park.

Morning worship will begin at 10:30 a. m. The choir will sing "Hallelujah For The Blood". Mrs. Marlin Snyder and Mrs. R. D. A. Frueling will provide the special message in song. "Complete Deliverance" is the topic of the pastor's message.

The Junior meeting and Young People's group will meet in their auditorium at 6:45 p. m. Mrs. Kenneth Dagon and Mrs. Philip Mennon will be the leaders in these meetings.

The evangelistic service at 7:30 p. m. the pastor will speak on the topic, "It Is My Choice". It will be a message on the free moral agency of man concerning his relationship to Christ, the Son of God. This is another in the series of sermons on the beliefs of the Church of the Nazarene. A special song will be presented by a quartet of juniors, composed of Stephen and Roxanne Swank, and Connie and Danny Crabtree.

'Martin Luther' Film Set at Calvary EUB

The film "Martin Luther" will be shown at the Calvary EUB Church at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow. Everyone is invited to see on the screen the life of this outstanding leader of the church.

Congregational hymns will be "The Church's one foundation," "A Mighty Fortress is Our God," and "O Where are Kings and Empires now?"

The subject of the morning sermon will be "Between Scylla and Charybdis." This theme is concerned with the inescapable problem of relating citizenship. There are those who feel that religion is relevant to the affairs of these times. If the politicians try to avoid this issue, the church has the right and duty to deal with it in a sincere and reasonable manner.

Sunday School classes will assemble at 9:30 a. m.

Senior High Youth Fellowship will meet from 5:30 — 7 p. m. with Katherine Measamer as discussion leader, and Dave McDonald social chairman.

Junior High Fellowship will meet from 7 — 8:30 p. m. Linda Miller and Judy Stonerock will have charge of the program and Pam Sweeney and Ellen E. Jenkins will serve refreshments.

Unrelated Twins

JACKSON, Tenn. (AP) — A cow belonging to a farmer near here had a multiple birth recently but the offspring can hardly be called twins.

One is a Hereford heifer; the other a Guernsey bull.

The two different breeds from the same cow is the result of some scientific meddling. The Guernsey is attributed to artificial insemination; the Hereford to later service by a bull.

Cleveland Seaway Tonnage Shows Drop

CLEVELAND (AP) — Henry N. Holdren Jr., Cleveland commissioner of harbors, says St. Lawrence Seaway tonnage moving through the Port of Cleveland this year will be below that of last year, the first season of the new waterway. He made the prediction Thursday at a meeting of the Cleveland World Trade Association. Holdren said that cargo moving over the city's docks to Oct. 1 was 13,000 tons less than during the corresponding period last year.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Make Church - Going a Habit

Nixon Is the Right Man

In the thunder and heat of a political campaign the voter often loses sight of the real men who are running for office.

Amid charges, countercharges, denunciations and denials and myriads of other details, the qualifications of the candidates are obscured.

Tuesday when Pickaway County residents go to the polls they will move into the quiet of the booth with perhaps the fate of mankind riding on how they mark their ballots.

Many men have perished in the rubble of the last 20 years for what Americans call freedom. But that is the past. The wounds of men have been washed clean by the seas of time. Ahead lies the challenge and the opportunity.

This freedom we all cherish must be preserved here in this community if it is to prosper. And prosper it must, or else how can it be sold to the rest of mankind as the true way God intended men to live?

Although the past is gone we would be less than wise to ignore experience. Confronted with Khrushchev on the outside and economic insecurity at home, we must choose the men who will be able to lead Americans on both fronts.

A year ago Americans were proud of the way Richard M. Nixon conducted himself in his world tour. He drew applause from men in every walk of life for his courageous dealings with Khrushchev in Moscow and rioters in Caracas.

Those experiences stand him well. He is prepared for the struggle that will come in the years ahead. Today's Nixon is the same man who made us proud a year ago. He is

Nixon Saved U.S. from Hiss

It was Richard Nixon who uncovered the nature of the Communist infiltration into the State Department in the Alger Hiss Case. He was a young member of the House of Representatives, fresh out of California, a member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities. He was young, active, immature and uninfluenced by the impediments of Washington life.

Bert Andrews, Washington correspondent of the "New York Herald Tribune," knew the whereabouts of Whittaker Chambers and evidence of the Hiss entanglements. This documentary evidence turned out to be the famous "Pumpkin Papers."

Richard Nixon drove to the Chambers farm in Maryland, uncovered the "Pumpkin Papers" and ultimately confronted Hiss and Chambers. This led to the Hiss trials and the conviction of Alger Hiss for perjury in a matter relating to espionage.

Nixon thus became identified with anti-Communism and with tough, relentless exposure. The Alger Hiss Case was settled in the courts. Hiss had ample opportunity for defense and appeal and lost. As is customary in such situations, there are always those who believe, despite the evidence in court, that it really could not be that such an educated and good looking man like Alger Hiss would be either a Communist or a spy. Hiss's own account of the situation does not add much knowledge to it, one way or the other. In fact, his statements on the case are nebulous.

Up to the moment of the exposure of Alger Hiss by Richard Nixon, Hiss had had a swift and even brilliant career in the State Department. His rise was phenomenal. He accompanied Presiwilling to stand again before the withering fire of Communism.

Both major political parties approve welfare programs of a similar nature. One calls for deficit spending, more "benefits" and higher taxes. The other calls for adequate aid for those in need and a reasonable program of financing.

Richard M. Nixon subscribes to the latter program. We cannot keep a healthy business climate — the backbone of our competitive system — if taxes continue to mount. We give up a little freedom each time Washington levies another tax.

We in Pickaway County must support our local institutions, but it is difficult when a great portion of our income is required to support federal programs.

The burden is great. We cannot afford a greater burden and still maintain the productive system that has made this country leader of the world.

It is clear that Richard M. Nixon meets both tests. He has proved his ability to deal with the balance of the world. He stands for stability of the American economy.

The Circleville Herald endorses Richard Nixon for President of the United States. He is experienced in the two areas which are most vital to Americans today and tomorrow.

straight because their consciences bother them. Nixon was the man, more than any other, who broke up the conspiracy to take over America by the Communists by his intervention in the Alger Hiss matter.

These Park Avenue Liberals believed that they had control of the State Department through Hiss and his empire — building coterie; they had the Treasury through Harry Dexter White. They even exerted a great influence in the White House through Lauchlin Currie.

It all went gekunk when Richard Nixon went to jail and the Rosenbergs were caught stealing the atom bomb. Not all of these rich men and women were Communists but they liked to play at being extraordinary.

LAFF-A-DAY

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

IT'S FUN tracking back the origin of stories some scribes have the gall to claim they "originated." Here are two you may recognize, for instance, that Maxwell Droke spotted in the 1870's:

1. Before the War Between the States, a Southern proprietor of a crossroads store called to his servant, "Amos, have you watered the whiskey?" "Yas, suh," "Sanded the sugar?" "Yas, suh," "Added dirt to the pepper?" "Yas, suh," "That's fine, Amos. Now you can come in to prayers."

2. A hat was passed around a certain congregation to provide a purse for the visiting minister. It came back absolutely empty. The visiting minister shook it mournfully, then raised his eyes to heaven and exclaimed, "I thank Thee, dear Lord, that I got my hat back from this congregation!"

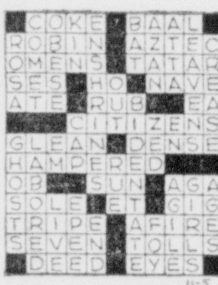

Rory Baxter writes that a couple on his floor have worked out the ideal arrangement. One night a week he goes out with the boys — and the other six nights, she goes out with them.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's tactics against Sen. John F. Kennedy vary in his campaign effort to help Vice President Richard M. Nixon win the presidency.

He has played it hot, and he has played it cool. Cool is more in the line of this master politician who now may be making the final political effort of his life.

Last Friday night in Philadelphia he scalded Kennedy a bit, although without mentioning his name. In his Wednesday night speech in New York Eisenhower used a cool feather duster.

Th former had a touch of the campaign he himself made against Adlai Stevenson in 1952. The latter was like his campaign against Stevenson in 1956.

That cool technique—which really means don't be too harsh on the man—has worked extremely well for Eisenhower throughout his presidency. Still, it's questionable whether this is the right technique to help Nixon now.

What may be needed from Eisenhower at this time—if he is going to swing any votes when polls are saying Kennedy is ahead—is a slashing, direct attack on the senator. The Nixon camp reportedly would prefer that.

In Philadelphia, in statements which could be considered aimed at Kennedy without naming him, Eisenhower spoke against "arrogance," "rashness," "irresponsibility." None of this was in his New York speech. He made only one allusion to Kennedy—his contention that American prestige has dwindled.

If a successful politician can be described as a man who knows how to stay highly popular while getting himself re-elected, then Eisenhower is one of the master politicians of the 20th century.

The proof is his overwhelming victories, without any previous role in politics, in 1952 and 1956. There are some who think he would beat Nixon or Kennedy easily right now if he could run for a third term.

But one of the secrets of his political success has been his ability to stay out of personal embroilments. One way of doing it is to avoid personal attacks. To put it another way, to attack without name-calling.

Eisenhower has made a career of that technique in the presidency. This has pretty much compelled anyone, with an inclination to attack him personally, to lay off.

The greater part of Kennedy's campaign has been based on criticism of Eisenhower's administration. But Kennedy does not name the President and has carefully avoided any direct conflict with him.

This works both ways, of course, and may have a discouraging effect on any Eisenhower inclination to get savage with Kennedy.

Where does that leave Nixon in these last few days of election when apparently he feels the greatest need for Eisenhower to demolish Kennedy, if he can?

He seems caught in the middle between two political techniques—Eisenhower's and Kennedy's—which call for wounding without blood-letting.

It seems fair to conclude—judging from the way Eisenhower toned down his New York speech after the one in Philadelphia—that while the President wants to help Nixon, his campaign for him will be something short of all-out.

The Life Story of Richard Nixon

Illustrated by A. S. Packer

FROM the time Dick Nixon was sworn in he was determined not to be labeled a "Throtheadbottom"—political lingo for a "do-nothing" Vice President. He wanted to be useful. He got his wish, too, for Ike introduced him to the intricacies of the executive branch from the start. With speeches, conferences and other activities Nixon had little time for anything else. He missed frolicking with his two energetic daughters, Tricia, 14, and Julie, 12. About the only time Nixon ever had with them was from 7:15 in the morning until he left for his office in the Capitol at 8 . . .

. . . President Eisenhower's confidence in Nixon was reflected by the numerous goodwill tours on which he was sent to all quarters of the globe. These even included Soviet Russia, where Nixon engaged in a now-historic impromptu debate with Premier Nikita Khrushchev. Usually at his side through the tens of thousands of miles was his wife, Pat,

A Working Vice President

. . . Vice President Nixon was well equipped to keep the ship of state on course during Ike's illnesses. Besides briefings and conferences, the President opened many doors for Dick so that he would be qualified to step into such emergencies. Nixon sat with the Cabinet and the important National Security Council. He always presided over both groups in the President's absence. A top official put it this way: "Dick knows every member of the White House staff, and has worked closely with the whole Eisenhower team." No Vice President before ever has received such extended indoctrination in the duties of the presidency.

Intense Wooing of Ohioans Points to Political Import

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sel-don have presidential candidates wooed Ohio more ardently than in the campaign to be climaxed by Tuesday's general election.

Both nominees express confidence they will be favored with a dowsy of 25 electoral votes by a state which might choose either.

Democratic Sen. John F. Kennedy paid court on a half dozen trips into the state by plane and motorcade. His Republican rival, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, made three visits by plane and train. Both suitors got warm recep-tions.

Nixon's running-mate, Henry Cabot Lodge, former United Nations ambassador, also made three Ohio campaign visits and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, the Demo-cratic vice presidential nominee, showed up once.

A host of leading figures in both parties assayed John Alden roles for the major candidates, includ-ing President Dwight D. Eisen-hower for Nixon.

The intense political activity points to a record Ohio vote of more than four million despite the absence of gubernatorial and U.S. senator contests this year. Ohio's record vote was 3,761,222 four years ago.

Strictly statewide contests this year are for state auditor and three seats on the Ohio Supreme Court. District races are for 23 congressional seats, 24 of the 38 seats in the state senate and one each of Ohio's 10 appellate courts.

On the county level, voters will pick 139 state representatives, two commissioners in each of the 88 counties, prosecutors, clerks of court, sheriffs, recorders, treasurers, engineers, coroners, probate judges, in most counties and common pleas judges in some.

About 1,800 local issues will be decided, including some 225 bond issues totaling more than 215½ million dollars.

Heading the Ohio ticket is the state auditor's race. The contest pits Republican incumbent James A. Rhodes, former Columbus mayor, against Democrat James D. Ferguson, former state employee and son of state Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson.

Young Ferguson seeks to avenge the defeat handed his father, then state auditor, by Rhodes in 1952. A major issue raised in the campaign is whether voters feel that a son should be responsible for auditing the books of his father, who has two more years to serve as state treasurer.

The auditor's term this time is for two years so that in 1962 all elective administrative state officials will have concurrent four year terms. Terms of Supreme Court judges, also elected state-wide, are for six years.

Incumbent Judges James F. Bell, Democrat, and Kingsley A. Taft, Republican, are up for re-election. Bell's opponent is Common Pleas Judge Earl R. Hoover. Cleveland Republican Joseph H. Ellison, Mansfield attorney, is the Democrat opposing Taft.

Former Gov. C. William O'Neill is the Republican opponent of Judge John W. Peck for an unexpired Supreme Court term ending Jan. 1, 1965. Peck is serving by gubernatorial appointment to the court vacancy created by the death in 1959 of Judge James Garfield Stewart, Cincinnati Republican. The appointment gave Demo-crats a 4-3 majority of the high court.

Two years ago, Ohio's congres-sional delegation had 14 Republi-cans and nine Democrats. A dozen GOP incumbents and six Demo-crats seek re-election, leaving five seats to be filled by newcomers.

Democrats controlled both houses in the last legislature but Republicans are bidding for a ma-jority in the House and possibly in the Senate next term. The new Senate will have 14 hold-over members with four-year terms—10 Democrats and four Republi-cans—leaving 24 senators to be elected. Terms of all state repre-sentatives are for two years.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown emphasized that all voting in the election is secret, whether by paper ballot or by machine. The state's election chief plans to visit Cleveland, Youngstown and Steubenville on election day to observe the voting and aides from his office will visit other areas. Brown called for prompt reports on any irregularities.

He said purchase of additional voting machines in areas using them and creation of additional polling places should prevent voter line-ups on election day.

Polls open at 6:30 a. m. and close at 6:30 p. m.

Majority of Press Backing Nixon

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice Presi-dent Richard M. Nixon has the support of a majority of the na-tion's newspapers responding to an Editor & Publisher poll.

But Sen. John F. Kennedy is getting more editorial support than any Democrat since 1944 when the late Franklin D. Roosevelt was the candidate.

The 57.3 per cent of the papers backing Nixon is the smallest for a Republican since 1932 when 55.5 per cent backed Herbert Hoover. Roosevelt had 38.7 per cent that year. Kennedy has 16.3 per cent this year. Roosevelt had 22 per cent in 1944.

Editor & Publisher magazine said 731 English-language dailies are supporting Nixon editorially and 208 are for Kennedy.

Bishop Says Shun Religion In Election

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Arch-bishop Edward D. Howard today called on Roman Catholics of his archdiocese to vote in the general election Tuesday without allowing religious considerations to deter-mine their choice.

Candidates should be weighed on the basis of "training, ability, and the public and civic welfare," he said in a statement published in the Catholic Sentinel, official newspaper of the archdiocese of Portland.

"The past many weeks have not been an easy time for Catholics," he said, "who have been the victims of innuendoes and false charges about their beliefs and whose loyalty even has been questioned."

The archbishop made no direct reference to Democratic presidential candidate Sen. John F. Ken-nedy, a Roman Catholic. The archbishop said only an ir-responsible few spread the false hoods and he commended non Catholics who worked to dispel suspi-cions "and promote the lib-erty which our Constitution guar-antees."

Publisher Sued For Story In Colorado

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Harry H. Hoiles, vice pres-ident of Freedom Newspapers, Inc., publishers of the Lima News and Bucyrus Telegraph-Forum in Ohio, has been sued for $200,000 in damages.

The plaintiffs, former Justice E. V. Holland of the Colorado Su-preme Court and B. B. Harding Denver real estate dealer, allege they were libeled in a story print in the Colorado Springs Gazette Telegraph, of which Hoiles is pub-lisher.

The suits resulted from a Sept. 2 story in the newspaper about a petition filed with the Colorado Supreme Court by John H. Gately, Colorado Springs attorney. Gately made charges against Holland and Harding in an effort to get the Su-preme Court to rehear a civil suit.

Mrs. Vi Murphy, 35, a Gazette-Telegraph reporter, was given a 30-day sentence by the court on a contempt charge because she re-fused to disclose the source of the story she had written in the case. The court granted Mrs. Murphy a stay of execution of the sentence pending an appeal.

Dogs Sniff Lamp Post, Leave with Yelps, Frothings

LONDON (AP)—Along the sea-side promenade at Worthing, a Sussex resort, a man came walk-ing his dog.

Dog stopped at a lamp post, sniffed, yelped and frothed at mouth. Tried to bite its owner.

Along the promenade came a woman with her dog. Dog sniffed at the lamp post, yelped, frothed at the mouth.

Along the promenade came a boy with a dog. Dog sniffed, yelped, frothed at mouth.

Rumor flew. Alarm grew. "Ra-bies?" asked some.

When a fourth dog reacted the same way, one watcher investi-gated. The steel lamp post was "live," leaking electricity. A city electrician went to work.

Shortly after, a passing dog demonstrated the trouble had been corrected.

'Bird Watching' Is Topic At Pickaway Garden Meet

Pickaway Garden Club members heard Mrs. Elliot Reichelderfer, Columbus, speak on "Bird Watching and Birders" last night at the Presbyterian Church.

She defined the hobby of bird watching as a "mild paralysis of the central nervous system which can be cured only by rising at dawn and sitting in a bog."

Mrs. Reichelderfer added that the man with the binoculars is now cartooned just as humorously as the man with the butterfly net used to be.

"Bird watching", she said, "is a hobby for everyone. You may be young or old or active or convalescent. You may be born with a love of birds or you may reach middle age before you become interested."

Mrs. Reichelderfer said that bird watching in the United States numbered about ten million.

She explained its immense popularity. "It is," she said, "an outdoor active hobby but not too active."

Birdwatching may be carried on alone or in a group of 40 or 50 as when Dr. Edward S. Thomas takes a group on a field trip.

Birdwatching can be self taught. All you need is a good bird guide, a pair of binoculars and your own curiosity.

Mrs. Reichelderfer says that birdwatching can take you anywhere. When you are in strange territory you may contact local birders who are glad to tell you about birds of the area and where to find them.

Birdwatching adds zest to the seasons. The awe and excitement of migration is present in spring. In summer there is the fun of watching nesting residents. In fall there are the returning migra-

Mrs. Mavis Heads Program At Circleville Garden Club

Mrs. Fred Mavis presented an article entitled "Improved Shade Trees", by E. Dexter Davis, Thursday night at the Circleville Garden Club session.

She stated that persons should treat their landscape to one of the improved varieties.

Discovering a "different" tree is simple but these trees may not be better trees but only oddities of limited value.

Professional nurserymen insist that a new tree must be distinctly better than existing trees; more resistant to insects, diseases or storms and roots may grow more deeply.

Also branches should be more erect or spreading; may have denser color or lighter foliage; or may be free of thorns or untidy seeds.

The honey locust, Gleditsia triacanthos, has been a favorite for years, said Mrs. Mavis. Christine Buisman elm is a fast growing tree introduced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture as being resistant to the Dutch Elm disease.

Improved Coolshade Elm variety Primus, introduced last spring, is the first hybrid elm to be patented.

Refreshments were served to 19 members and two guests, Betty Boldoser and Sherry McAfee, by the hostesses.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

It Leaves Him Cold!

DEAR ABBY: My husband bought me a deep freeze three years ago and now all I hear from him is, "Don't feed me any more of that blankety blank stuff from the freezer!"

Isn't a freezer for women who must bake and cook when they have time, and then freeze it until they need it? My husband says it's to preserve fish and game between hunting and fishing seasons. A book came with the freezer telling me how to freeze cakes pies and left-overs and I follow the instructions to the letter. Half the time, when my husband says the food is dry and tasteless, he doesn't know what he's talking about because I've given him fresh food, but he won't believe me. Can anyone REALLY tell by the taste if food has been frozen or not?

FREEZE
DEAR FREEZE: Most frozen foods, if properly processed, could pass for fresh in a blindfold test. It depends on the food, how long it's been frozen and how it is served. Your husband is probably all heated up for nothing.

DEAR ABBY: I heard that over half the Presidents of the United States were Masons. Is that right?

SIoux CITY SUE
DEAR SUE: No. But Truman, F. D. Roosevelt, Theo. Roosevelt, Harding, McKinley, Johnson, Garfield, Buchanan, Polk, Jackson, Monroe Taft and Washington were. Also, Jefferson and Madison.

DEAR ABBY: If you are interested in teen-agers, you will print this story. I don't know whether it's true or not, but it doesn't matter because it served its purpose for me!

STATE REPRESENTATIVE

The State of Ohio operates on a Biennial Basis (2 year fiscal period). Here is how the increased revenues break down, $215.5 million that goes to states general fund, $130 million to Highway Dept., and $126.5 million in indirect taxes and charges, including increased charges on business and industry. Total for biennium $472 million. Take half of this ($472 million) is $236 million "almost $240 million".

As to what the increased taxes and revenues will provide. Democrat State Treasurer asserted that last year and I quote "was a Golden Year in all respects, with total all-time receipts of $1,610,471,-436.00 an increase of $165,499,366 over the year ending June 30, 1959". Considering that the added taxes were collected for only part of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1960. Actually for approximately 10 months, the session of the 103 General Assembly ended in August 1960. Increase in income per month, $16,549,936 X 12 equals $198,599,232 per year. The actual income is perhaps not as much as anticipated, therefore it is possible that another DiSalle controlled legislature will be asked for more tax increases.

Now as to the ad of my opponent, in the Circle ville Herald dated November 2, 1960, those figures (see my ad Nov. 4, 1960) can be verified at the County Superintendent's Office, Pickaway County Board of Education or can be checked at the Clerks Office of any of the District Board's of Education. They are correct. (Printed in news item on page 2 of Nov. 4 Herald)

As to the statement that I want taxes reduced. So does everyone else, but every one also realized that it cannot be done as long as we have such a spendthrift administration in the State House. Here is the actual statement, "I believe that Real Estate and Personal Taxes are High Enough". Don't you agree?

Literature will be circulated this weekend, "perhaps you have already read it" which says that if I were your representative, old age assistance and various other items would have been cut 37%. I hope that the people of Pickaway County are not so gullible as to believe some of the statements which have been made about me.

What do I stand for —

I believe in Economy in Government, also Honesty, we should not be taxed more than necessary. I believe that State Aid to Schools should be restored to at least what it was before my opponent took office in 1950. It was in 1948 — 48%, in 1960, it is 28%. (Verified)

Existing recreation areas (Hargus Lake) should be improved and developed for the good of all.

As Executive Secretary of Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce, I have worked hard to improve our community and make it a better place to live and raise our children, I have been active in Grange work, a great family organization for people in agriculture, also city people. During my administration (two yrs.) as President of The Pickaway Farmers and Sportsman Association, action was taken that made Hargus Lake a reality, although the club should get the credit for this and no one else.

Served two years as President of County Traffic Safety Committee, now a director, also many other activities. I have attempted to do my part to improve our County and City because I believe and I say in all sincerity that any citizen should put the good of the community above their own selfish interests. I have tried to conduct an honest, clean campaign and any statements I have made can be proven from public records.

As to experience in the Legislature my opponent did not have any more experience than I have when he ran for his first term 10 years ago. At 49 years of age I believe I am alert, energetic, and capable enough to learn. During the past months, I have studied hard, read all I could about the various and many issues we will face in the next session of Legislature, in order to become qualified. Don't you think it is time for a change?

Humbly and sincerely, I want to represent the people of Pickaway County. I would appreciate your vote and support November 8, 1960. Thank You.

Future Farmers of America Camp Muskingum

By THOMAS HARBER
Walnut FFA
In 1942 Ohio Future Farmers began their camping program in an abandoned farm building made available through the courtesy of the Muskingum Watershed Conservancy District. Little did anyone think that in a few short years Future Farmers would have at their disposal quarters as convenient as those found at Camp Muskingum.

has a long and interesting history. The first initial step in the development of Camp Muskingum was in 1936 when the Leesville Dam was constructed to form the Leesville Lake for the purpose of flood control in the Muskingum watershed area. The buildings were constructed by the Federal Government for use as an NYA camp. When the buildings were not used for this purpose they became the property of the Muskingum Watershed Conservancy Districts and so the use of this land and the buildings was offered to the Future Farmers of Ohio for conservation education, leadership training and recreation.

The camp property consists of about 160 acres of forest land and is located on the east side of the North arm of Leesville Lake.

The camp is well supplied with buildings and equipment to carry leadership and recreational programs. The camp facilities consist of a dining lodge with modern food preparation facilities, four dormitories with a total capacity of 300 campers, a hospital, recreation building, boat house, latrine, garage, and repair shop. The lake offers ideal swimming and boating facilities.

At the present time Ohio Future Farmers own 25 metal boats and motors. In addition, there are facilities and equipment for baseball, tennis, basketball, horseshoes, softball, badminton, volleyball, shuffle board, table tennis and archery.

Homemaker News

Home Economics Agent

Soap and water may ruin your carpets or rugs.
Water, alone, may cause brown or yellow spots on your rugs.

The source of these spots is the backing material of the rug which is usually made of jute, paper or unbleached cotton. Each of these fibers is subject to a natural process called cellulose degradation, the same process which causes old newspapers to turn yellow or brown. In addition, most rugs are given a sizing of starch or dextrine, both of which supply the same type of impurities found in the backing yarns.

The trouble comes when water, either spilled or used in cleaning, is allowed to soak through the backing. When that occurs, the impurities in the backing are dissolved. As the water dries, the tufts of the rug pile act as wicks, bringing the water and browning substance to the top of the pile. Here final evaporation leaves the impurities on the surface of the rug.

As for the use of soap on rugs, inability to remove the residue by thorough rinsing usually causes three unfortunate results: (1) rancid odor develops eventually, (2) the fatty deposit catches and holds dirt, thus promoting rapid resoiling, (3) the alkaline content of the soap speeds deterioration of dyes. The soap problem is simply and easily solved by the substitution of a neutral detergent, the residue of which can be conveniently vacuumed out of the rug.

In the case of water stains, prevention lies in using moisture sparingly. When water is spilled accidentally, staining can be prevented by blotting up all the water possible immediately using clean, white unstarched terry cloth, white absorbent tissues or white paper towels.

WHEN THE spot has been dried as much as it can by that procedure, fresh blotting material should be placed on the area and weighted down. As the remaining moisture rises to the ends of the tufts it will continue into the blotting material carrying the impurities with it instead of leaving them at the surface of the rug pile.

Under certain circumstances the discoloration may not be seen until the rug is cleaned. That is due to the fact that all except the heaviest stains may be masked by the over-all soiling of the rug. Thorough cleaning will remove the soil, leaving the stain behind.

While water stains are almost always indelible, an expert spot drier can sometimes conceal them. The remedy is apt to be costly and temporary; however, often the best means of concealment is to cover the spot with a piece of furniture or with a scatter rug. Rugs cleaned in a plant by professional methods are thoroughly saturated by washing and rinsing, yet do not develop browning stains.

The reason is that excess water is removed and the rug is then suspended in a drying room which is scientifically designed to remove the moisture in three to four hours. That rapid drying, plus the continuous movement of warm air around the rugs, prevents the slow wicking action which causes stains.

In cleaning tacked down carpets in the home, professional cleaners regulate the flow of water very carefully. In addition they use a special detergent which does not carry moisture through the carpet backing.

Total farm investment in 1959 ($200 billion) was equivalent to more than two-thirds the value of all the stocks of all corporations represented on the New York Stock Exchange.

The number of farms continues to decline while businesses increase. The total number of farms dropped by 899,000, or 16 percent from 1950 to 1958, and farm population declined 4,211,000. In contrast the total number of operating businesses increased by 314,000, or 8 percent, in spite of 97,137 business failures, during the period.

Yarns made from today's leading varieties of cotton are 20 percent to 30 percent stronger than were yarns made from leading varieties of 15 years ago.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Milton Eisenhower is stepping out of two advisory posts he has held under the presidential administration of his brother, but is retaining a third he tried to resign.

President Eisenhower accepted Thursday Milton Eisenhower's resignation from the President's Advisory Committee on Government Organization and from the National Advisory Committee on Inter-American Affairs.

The President's brother agreed, at the suggestion of the Navy and the urging of the President, to continue for a time on the Board of Visitors of the U.S. Naval Academy.

Dr. Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, underwent an operation for a slipped vertebral disc and has been confined to bed.

Cleveland Laborite Faces Tax Charges

CLEVELAND (AP)—William Finegan, executive secretary of the Cleveland AFL-CIO organization, pleaded innocent in Federal Court today to a charge of evading income taxes.

He was released under $2,000 bond by Judge Gerard Kalbfleisch. Finegan is accused of evading part of his taxes from 1955 through 1957.

The government says he had an income of $124,529 but reported only $50,714. He paid taxes of $12,683 but internal revenue agents say he should have paid $50,831.

The union official has declared his trial will show the government's figures are false.

Swine Program Launched Today

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Plans for a field trial on artificial insemination of swine to be conducted in a 12-county area in Ohio were announced today by Dr. Roy M. Kottman, dean of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics at The Ohio State University and Director of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station.

Research conducted by the Experiment Station during the past five years has demonstrated the practical application of artificial conditions. This field trial will demonstrate its application under farm conditions, Dr. Kottman said.

The trial will be a combined effort of several agencies and organizations. It will be under the direction of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station with the cooperation of The Ohio State University.

Personnel in the College of Veterinary Medicine at Ohio State and the department of veterinary science at the Experiment Station will supervise health regulations. Producers Swine Improvement Association, Columbus, Ohio, has provided a grant to help finance this project.

The Extension Service through county agents, specialists, and county swine committees will provide information to interested farmers. Selected technicians employed by and under the supervision of The Central Ohio Breeding Association, Columbus, Ohio, and NOBA Inc., Tiffin, will receive the calls from the swine growers and provide the field service.

FRESHLY diluted boar semen collected from 12 boars of three breeds — Duroc, Hampshire, Yorkshire — with either of both swine improvement and breed association certification background will be shipped from Ohio State University.

Service will be available daily, except Sunday and Monday, to farmers in areas covered by the following counties: Clinton, Coshocton, Delaware, Fayette, Hocking, Knox, Logan, Marion, Morrow, Preble, Ross, and Union. These counties were selected primarily on the basis of available bus service to insure prompt delivery of the semen to the technicians.

The results of this field trial will be of considerable value in determining the future of artificial insemination of swine, Dean Kottman said.

House Probe Possible in Nixon Affair

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House subcommittee may investigate charges of possible conflict of interest growing out of a Hughes Tool Co. loan to a brother of Vice President Richard M. Nixon four years ago.

Chairman Jack Brooks, D-Tex., said Thursday he has serious allegations that decisions of the Civil Aeronautics Board were influenced. He said he will ask his government activities subcommittee "for approval to conduct a thorough investigation at the earliest opportunity."

Nixon's campaign manager, Robert Finch, has called the charges a smear brought up to hurt Nixon's election chances. He said Nixon knew nothing of the loan until later.

Howard Hughes heads both the Hughes Tool Co. and Trans World Airlines, which is under CAB jurisdiction. The tool company has been identified as the maker of a $205,000 loan in December 1956 to F. Donald Nixon, a brother of the vice president.

Brooks did not name the source of the allegations that the CAB was influenced.

"It has been reported that following this loan in December 1956, TWA was granted a route from St. Louis, Mo., to Miami, Fla., that TWA's Far Eastern route was extended to Manila, that TWA was given a passenger fare increase and that the 12-year restriction imposed by the CAB on commercial transactions between the Hughes Tool Co. and TWA was lifted after the granting of this $205,000 loan," Brooks said.

GOP Pamphlet Hints Kennedy Anti-Semitic

WOODMERE, N.Y. (AP) — A Republican state assemblyman said today that party members in his district have distributed copies of a pamphlet intimating that Sen. John F. Kennedy might be anti-Semitic.

Harold Bobroff, Democratic leader in this suburban area of Long Island, charged Thursday the pamphlets had been seen in Republican headquarters here.

Assemblyman Palmer Farrington, when asked about the charge, said the pamphlets have been distributed by Republicans in his district. He said the pamphlets were sent by the Committee for Human Rights, 100 E. 42nd St., Manhattan.

The pamphlet quotes an excerpt from an article attributed to a newspaper in Israel, named Heruth.

The pamphlet, entitled "Israeli Press Reviews Nixon and Kennedy," quotes the newspaper as saying that the Democratic presidential candidate's father, Joseph P. Kennedy, was sympathetic to Nazi Germany when he was ambassador to Britain.

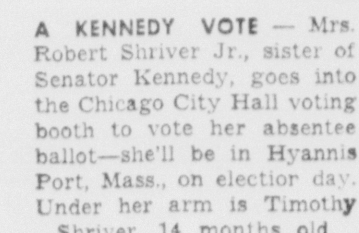

The newspaper is quoted as saying: "The question which cannot be answered is whether the father did not inject some poisonous drops of anti-Semitism into the minds of his children, including this son (Sen. Kennedy)."

Rabbi Emanuel Rockman, vice president of the Religious Zionists of America, said in answer to a query that the newspaper, a Tel Aviv daily, is an organ of Israel's Heruth political party.

Railroad Thistle Fall Fatal to Fleeing Woman

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—A 30-foot fall from a railroad trestle has killed Mrs. Charlotte Rhoades, 44. Police said she and another woman were using the trestle for a short cut Thursday evening when a train approached.

Both started to run and Mrs. Rhoades slipped and fell from the trestle to a stack of pilings on the ground below.

100 Years Ago this week in the U.S.A.

Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of articles covering activity in the U. S. 100 years ago. This week's story deals with the fever-pitch prevailing prior to the coming election.

The nation was in apprehension for Tuesday, next. On that day nearly 5 million Americans will choose electors who will, on December 5, declare the people's choice for the office of the President of the United States. Perhaps at no other time in our nearly 100-year history has the future of the nation been so dependent on the naming of its leader.

In the north, where the heavy concentration of population provides for a large number in the electoral college, the Republican party with its candidate A. Lincoln, of Illinois, seems to have an edge in popularity. In the south, on the other hand, there is strong feeling against the Republicans and several states have hinted that they will start secession proceedings should Lincoln be elected. This threat of disunion may make itself felt in the north on Tuesday.

N. Y. Times Is Loser of Huge Lawsuit

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A $500,000 libel suit judgment against the New York Times and four Negro ministers — an outgrowth of Alabama's racial troubles—was headed today for appeal to the higher courts.

Twelve white jurors in State Court Thursday awarded the record judgment to Montgomery Police Commissioner L. B. Sullivan, who said he was libeled by an advertisement which appeared in the Times.

The Negro defendants whose names appeared in the ad — the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy and the Rev. Solomon S. Seay Sr., of Montgomery, the Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth of Birmingham and the Rev. J. E. Lowery of Mobile—called it part of the price of their "struggle for freedom and dignity."

The suit by Sullivan was the first to be tried of four complaints filed by members of the City Commission and Gov. John Patterson because of the full-page advertisement which appeared in the Times March 29.

Soliciting funds for the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. before the Negro integration leader was accused on charges of lying about his state income taxes, the ad dealt in part with the handling of Negro college student demonstrations here last March.

Sullivan and the other public officials denounced the advertisement as false and malicious, and said it held them up to ridicule and shame.

No date has been set for trial of the other suits.

2 Yanks Missing on Flight Designed to 'Bomb Havana'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Two young Americans set out Halloween in a stolen plane from Fort Pierce, Fla., to bomb Havana, the Miami News said today. They never arrived.

In a copyright story by Hal Hendrix, Latin-American editor, the News said "two youthful American soldiers of fortune whose mission could have shaken the hemisphere far beyond the explosive power of their homemade bombs, are now missing."

The story continued: "Whether they have been a dramatic stroke of revenge for the summary execution of three Americans and 15 Cubans by the Castro government."

"They had even printed the names of the three Americans on the bomb casings that they filled with black powder and scrap iron. They carried a dozen Molotov cocktails, too."

Whether their plane went down at sea, fell into Castro hands, crashed or landed in a remote area of Cuba or some other island is a question still to be answered, the News added.

The newspaper said it learned of the background of the flight from "the very best sources" and the story was confirmed in some details by the theft of a plane from its hanger at Fort Pierce Monday night.

The News said that last Saturday Paul Hughes, 31, former volunteer in Fidel Castro's revolutionary air force, who broke with the Cuban leader over communism, met with Jay Hunter, 28, in Miami.

Both Hunter and Hughes had been close friends of Robert Otis Fuller, an American executed for taking part in an invasion last month.

A third man, not identified, helped with the preparations.

First Mt. Pleasant Church Erected in 1838 by Members

The first history of Methodism in southern Ohio dates back to 1799, when the Scioto Circuit was formed in territory extending from the Ohio River north, including what is now Ross County. The pioneers of territory were served by circuit riders.

Occasional services were held north of the circuit. In 1807 the Deere Creek Circuit was formed, north of the Scioto Circuit, and extended to the Franklin County Line.

Methodist classes were formed wherever enough folks could be gathered together.

It was not until 1826 that the first class was formed by Jacob Terwiller, under the administration of the Rev. Jacob Delay. Class members were Thomas and Abigail Emery, Jacob and Elizabeth Terwiller, Henry and Elizabeth Rector, James, John and Lucy Rose, Philip, Sarah Ann and Mary Wiggins, John and Sarah Tiffin, Maria Van Wagner and Amy Kidney.

Preaching was alternated every other week at the home of Henry Rector, who lived on land now owned by Richard Rector and Florence Rector Jones. Class meetings were held on the Sabbath mostly in the home of Jacob Terwiller, farm now owned by Mrs. Frank Bennett.

In 1873 it was decided to build a church. Henry Rector donated a plot of ground and a subscription list was started. Approximately 177 persons subscribed $670.99 in money, labor and material for the purpose.

A frame church was built on this spot in 1838 and named Mt. Pleasant.

This church was built on a knoll about 8 miles west of Circleville on Route 38. It was 28 ft. wide and 32 ft. long.

The building was dedicated in June 1839, by the Rev. A. M. Loran. During the winter of 1848-1849, a great revival occurred under the preaching of Rev. Alexander Nelson and Rev. James Laws. Many were added to the Church membership.

This building was used for about 30 years.

The present structure was erected and dedicated in 1859 by Rev. T. J. Phillips. The cost of the structure was $5000.00. The building committee was John Rector, Levi Allen and John Wilms.

In 1866 the Deere Creek Circuit was divided and Williamsport Circuit was formed and Mt. Pleasant Church became a member. This relation continued until 1916, when Williamsport became a charge of one church. Mt. Pleasant then became a member of the Clarksburg Circuit and continued there until 1944.

Mt. Pleasant is now associated with Emmett's Chapel and Spring bank, and has a satisfactory arrangement with the Rev. Charles Stephens as minister.

MT. PLEASANT METHODIST

The 100th Anniversary of this Church was celebrated in Aug. 1949 with a Homecoming.

It can be said to the credit of our ancestors, many of whom are buried in the adjoining cemetery, and the loyal Christians in the community today, that the doors of this church have not been closed to worship for over 120 years. The church stands today a landmark to the community and a Monument to Methodism.

State's Needs To Require New Taxation

CLEVELAND (AP) — James H. Maloon, state finance director, says Ohio's present tax system does not provide the means to meet the minimum needs for the state's programs.

He made that statement in an address at the annual dinner meeting of the Ohio Public Expenditure Council Wednesday night. He said the "magnitude of the problem will be such" that consideration must be given to "another form of taxation at the state level — if not soon, at least in the foreseeable future."

Maloon referred to a council question about the possible need for added state revenues this way:

"Obviously, I cannot say definitely what the Ohio Legislature will do. It is possible to further revise existing taxes to produce more, it is possible to again revert to debt financing, at least for a time. The sales tax could go to 4 per cent (from the present 3 per cent), its base could be broadened, and other similar actions could be taken."

The council, a non-partisan research organization, said in its annual report that Ohio's business climate is still "favorable" despite the fact that state taxes had been raised by $316 million a year.

Jet Tanker Planes Due at Lockbourne

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Near-by Lockbourne Air Force base will get jet tanker planes, the Boeing KC135, within the next year, replacing piston-engine KC97 tankers, the commander of the 801st Air Division has announced.

Col. O. F. Lassiter said the two wings of B47 jet bombers at the base won't have to descend to piston-plane altitude (from 40,000 down to 18,000 feet) to be refueled in the air by the KC135s. That was the case in refueling with KC97s, when the bombers also had to slow down to propeller speeds.

Here Is Thumbnail Sketch of Man Toiling Unknown in Political Vineyard

Editor's Note—In the north half of the 6th Assembly District on Manhattan's crowded East Side the Republican party counts on one man to produce majorities for GOP candidates in one tiny cell of the national body politic. He's a district leader, and across the country his number is legion. Here's a close-up of the man and his job.

By PAUL BUJAR
NEW YORK (AP) — Politics sprout from the grass roots. And Vincent F. Albano Jr. is a man who keeps them watered.

He is a professional politician, one of many thousands who labor in the political garden day in, day out, year in, year out.

His job: to win elections. Vincent Albano is a Republican, but that's not important here. What is important is that he is a typical professional politician. His kind makes the wheels turn in both political parties.

To know him, to see how he runs his district, is to understand the basic fuel that makes a political bandwagon move.

"I'm a mitt-flopper from way back," Albano says.

"We have at least 10 big street rallies in my district during a campaign. But it's the sidewalk campaigning, walking down the street with the candidates, shaking hands ('mitt flopping') on Albano's East Side) and saying hello—that's the heart of it."

Albano is one of 31 Republican leaders on the island of Manhattan. In each party, there are dozens more in the rest of New York City, hundreds in New York State, thousands of others across the country. Whether the stage is big city sidewalk or country courthouse square, the role is the same.

Albano's domain is the north half of the 6th Assembly District, home of 80,000 persons. His job is to see they vote for his candidates.

"You're only as strong in politics as you are in your home district," he says.

"A district leader in New York is a part-time employment manager, part-time personnel expert, part-time diplomat and salesman for the party, and a full-time roving lay psychiatrist — without pay," he says.

Then there's the hard sell. During a campaign there are 150,000 doorbells that have to be rung, 15,000 phone calls to be made, 125,000 separate mailings.

On election day Albano's organization provides babysitters. If the weather is bad, there are 25 cars ready to take voters to the polls.

If the groundwork has been sound, if the voters remember, Albano wins. But wins what?

Patronage, for one, sometimes totaling up to $1 million a year. The figure sounds high for a Republican district in Democratic New York City, but remember the New York State Legislature is Republican, and all professionals are practical.

There are about 25 "good" jobs paying up to $10,000 annually on which Albano, a lion among GOP district leaders, has some say.

Fifty "so-so" jobs pay less, and there are a variety of part-time or "one-shot" jobs that may add up to about $450,000. Not all are public payroll. Often a businessman will call Albano when he needs workers simply because he knows Albano has people available for work.

Then there's the satisfaction of winning—and the power that goes with it. That's the attraction for the hundreds of volunteers without whom Albano, a volunteer himself, would be helpless.

Albano was born with politics in his blood. His father was a steel worker and a Democratic district captain.

Albano was regarded as a comer by the time he reached his 20s. But he broke with the regular party organization when he was passed over at the last minute for a job he'd been promised. He ultimately wound up in the Republican camp.

To see how he could do, the GOP brass assigned him to help in a district outside his home grounds in a special congressional election in 1949. The Democrat was Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., regarded as unbeatable.

"We were clobbered," says Albano. But Roosevelt took Albano's area by only a 2-1 majority. "Everywhere else he swept everything in sight."

As a dubious reward, the GOP county committee later that year elected Albano leader of his present district, an area that had voted about 6-1 Democratic as far back as any one could remember.

Luckily, big, new apartment developments were bringing a new group of middle-class residents, but the Sixth is still a jumble of racial and political groups.

"Talk about New York City being a melting pot. We've got the pot, the grease and the fire."

But Albano also had another ingredient: patience.

William S. Shea was Albano's first candidate, running for a city judgeship. In that 1949 campaign, Shea became the first local Republican ever elected in the district, squeezing in by 75 votes out of 41,000 cast. But more significantly, in a congressional primary Albano turned out more than 1,000 votes for his party in five election precincts without a single Democratic ballot being cast.

"The night this happened," says Albano, "the precinct captains tore the shirt off my back. And I loved it. We were 5-year-olds on a summer picnic. It was a ball."

Albano started out as a 150-a-month bank page boy, won a civil service exam for a job in the City Housing Authority as accountant, and ultimately became a $9,000-a-year employee in the state tax ap-praiser's office before resigning last year to form his own public relations corporation. He is also vice president of a bank.

He and his wife have six children but—unpardonable for a politician—he can only remember the birthday of one of the youngsters. His eldest child, Carole, was born St. Valentine's Day.

How Big Six States Look

Pennsylvania May Switch To Democrats This Time

Editor's Note: Following is the last in a series of articles detailing the apparent trend of the six big states in the presidential campaign.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —Democrats have carried Pennsylvania in a presidential election only four times in the last 100 years. But both the Democrats and Republicans obviously feel it could happen for a fifth time next Tuesday — and this despite President Eisenhower's winning margin of more than 600,000 in 1956.

Dale Carnegie Course Coming To Circleville

The world famous Dale Carnegie Course is coming to Circleville under the sponsorship of the local Kiwanis Club.

"We believe Kiwanis sponsorship of this adult education program is a genuine community service," says Kiwanis President Bertus Bennett. "Businessmen, professional men, sales people, housewives, clubwomen, office personnel — every adult will benefit from this training. It will build a new enthusiasm, develop self-confidence, create a new understanding among the citizens of our town."

Bennett added that businessmen in other areas report that the classes have had an important influence on human relations in their communities.

It was announced by Bennett the first meeting will be a free demonstration session. It will be held in the Circleville High School Auditorium at 7:26 p. m. Monday. The public is invited. There is no cost or obligation in attending.

The purpose of the Demonstration Meeting according to Bennett is to acquaint visitors with Dale Carnegie methods in effective speaking, human relations and leadership training. One of the features of the evening will be a demonstration of one of the remarkable memory-training techniques developed by Dale Carnegie.

The course is for folks from all over town and country, and not confined to Kiwanians and their friends. The Kiwanis is merely steering the course into Circleville.

The Dale Carnegie Courses began in 1912 in New York City. Today the classes are taught in more than 800 cities in America and in 51 foreign cities.

More than 500,000 men and women are graduates. Among them are G. Frank Bettger, one of the top salesmen in this country; Robert Quain, manager of the world's largest hotel, the Conrad Hilton in Chicago; Joe Foss, President of the newly formed American Professional Football League and John M. Fox, president of the Minute-Maid Corporation.

Lodge 23 Officers Installed Here

Pickaway Masonic Lodge No. 23 conducted an election and installation of officers here this week at the Masonic Temple.

Carl Agin was installed at worshipful master and Howard Wellington as senior warden.

Other officers taking posts were Ralph May, treasurer; Richard Pettit, secretary; James Krinn, senior deacon; Robert F. Elsea, junior deacon; Robert Colville, tiler; and Richard Pettit, trustee. Refreshments were served following the installation ceremony.

Why the abrupt flip-flop? Many things, of course, but basically the Democratic candidate—Sen. John F. Kennedy—has three things going for him in his drive for the state's 32 electoral votes:

(1) All-out backing from the big city machines in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh and from the Democratic state administration; (2) economically depressed conditions in the coal mines, railroads and steel mills of this highly industrialized state and (3) a Democratic edge in registration (by about 3,000 out of a little more than five million voters) for the first time in Pennsylvania history. Vice President Richard M. Nixon, on the other hand, is immensely popular outside the larger cities. Most observers concede he will win possibly 55 of the state's 67 counties, but the question is whether this largely rural and suburban vote can offset Kennedy majorities of perhaps 180,000 in Philadelphia and 75,000 in Pittsburgh.

In the background, of course, is Kennedy's religion. About 3 out of every 10 Pennsylvania adults are Roman Catholic. This without question, will help Kennedy, but whether enough to offset anti-Catholic feeling in largely Protestant areas is a big imponderable.

That both Nixon and Kennedy figure the state's 2 electoral votes a toss-up is shown by the time they were here during the campaign. They and their running mates between them spent all or part of 10 days campaigning in Pennsylvania. The Republicans also twice sent in President Eisenhower, the gentleman farmer from Gettysburg, Pa., while the Democrats used former President Truman and Adlai Stevenson.

In 1952, Eisenhower defeated Stevenson in this state by 2,415,789 to 2,146,269. In 1956 it was 2,585,252 to 1,981,769. Franklin D. Roosevelt carried the state three times. Woodrow Wilson in 1912 was the other Democratic winner. On the other hand, Al Smith, a Catholic and the Democratic candidate in 1928, lost to Herbert Hoover by almost a million votes.

That a Catholic can win a statewide race in Pennsylvania, however, was demonstrated for the first time in 1958 when David L. Lawrence, long mayor of Pittsburgh, won the governorship by 77,000 votes while the incumbent governor, George Leader, a Democrat, lost a bid to the U.S. Senate by 112,000 votes to Hugh Scott.

Lawrence's edge in Philadelphia alone was about 175,000 and Stevenson carried the city by 160,000 once and 123,000 the second time. Thus the key to Kennedy's chances seems to lie in the size of the Philadelphia majority. City Democratic Chairman William J. Green Jr. is predicting a margin of 250,000 in this once Republican stronghold.

Wilbur Hamilton, Philadelphia's Republican chairman, calls the 250,000 figure ridiculous, saying it won't be more than 140,000—if that much. And the state Republican chairman, George Bloom, predicts the Republicans will pile up a bigger majority in the counties around Philadelphia than the Democrats can do inside the city. As for Lawrence, the state's national committeeman, he said after touring with Kennedy that the senator will carry Pennsylvania even without a whopping majority in Philadelphia, which casts one-fifth the state's vote.

KENNEDY MISSING!

Where was he in the Senate? Where was he in the Committees when he could have acted?

FOR EXAMPLE:

ECONOMIC GROWTH

Kennedy said: "If we're going to grow the way we should grow we must adopt fiscal policies that will stimulate growth and not discourage it." — September 5, 1960 speech in Detroit, Michigan.

BUT, as a member of the Joint Economic Committee of Congress, Senator Kennedy attended only one of FORTY-FOUR meetings dealing with U.S. and Soviet economic growth and price levels. (Nor did he attend any of the six meetings which studied the Economic Report of the President.)

PROBLEMS OF THE AGED

Kennedy said: "Only with a Democratic President in the White House can we hope to bring help to poverty-stricken older Americans." — Sept. 28, 1960 speech in Buffalo, N.Y.

BUT, as a member of the Senate Subcommittee on Problems of the Aged and Aging, he has not attended a single session of the 20 meetings and hearings which have been held by the committee.

DEFENSE

Kennedy said: "We must work to build the stronger America on which our ultimate ability to defend ourselves and the free world depends." — June 14, 1960 Senate speech.

BUT, on June 16, 1960, instead of being on hand in the Senate to enact the $40 billion Defense Appropriation, he preferred to attend his college class reunion and make a later appearance on a TV variety show.

DISARMAMENT

Kennedy said: "No issue, in short, is of more vital concern to this nation than disarmament — no issue could demand more priority of top-level attention than disarmament." (Kennedy is a member of the Senate Disarmament Subcommittee.)

AUTOMATION

Kennedy said: "We must put to work the wonders of automation in a way which will be a blessing for all America — not merely a curse for the workers." — September 5, 1960 speech in Detroit, Michigan.

BUT, as a member of the Joint Subcommittee on Automation and Energy Resources, Senator Kennedy has not attended a single one of the FIVE meetings of this committee.

AFRICAN AFFAIRS

Kennedy said: "As chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on African Affairs, I have been disturbed by recent evidence of Russian infiltration and subversion in the Congo." — Statement given to reporters during flight from Flint to Muskegon, Mich., Sept. 6, 1960.

BUT, as Chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on African Affairs he hasn't called a single meeting of his subcommittee in the past fifteen months.

ATOMIC ENERGY USES

Kennedy said: "Our research in the peaceful uses of atomic energy has fallen far short of expectations. There has been too much bureaucratic red tape and too little budget." — September 6, 1960 speech in Pocatello, Idaho.

BUT, on May 10, 1960, when the Senate debated and passed the Atomic Energy Appropriation, the New York Times reported that Senator Kennedy spent the morning in West Virginia, the afternoon at a luncheon for Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. The previous year, too, when these funds were provided by the Senate August 3, 1959, Senator Kennedy was ABSENT.

BUT, Gerald Heaney, Democratic National Committeeman from Minnesota, announced that John Kennedy "has not attended a single meeting of the committee since 1958" — Milwaukee Journal, April 4, 1960.

-THIS, THEN, IS KENNEDY-TYPE LEADERSHIP?—

As a Senator he missed 331 roll calls (not including 36 votes taken when he was ill)

As a Congressman he missed 179 roll calls

Kennedy and Johnson, by their voting record, disagreed 264 times . . . and as a Committee member Kennedy's record is as follows:

1. Senate Committee on Foreign Relations
 - a) Sub-Committee on Disarmament (Member) — no attendance since August 1958.
 - b) Sub-Committee on African Affairs (Chairman) — no attendance since July 1959, since which time the Congo crisis developed.
2. Labor, Public Welfare Committee (Member)
 - a) Sub-Committee on Problems of Aged — missed all 20 meetings this session.
 - b) Sub-Committee on Veterans — Did not attend.

3. Joint Committee on Economic Progress (Member)
 - a) Sub-Committee on Economic Growth — attended 1 of 44 meetings — none since March 20, 1959.
 - b) Sub-Committee on Automation — attended none of 5 meetings.
 - c) Sub-Committee on President's Economic Report — attended none of 6 meetings.

THESE PERILOUS TIMES DEMAND DEPENDABLE ON-THE-JOB, PROVEN LEADERSHIP

VOTE NIXON-LODGE

Republican State Central & Executive Committee, Ray C. Bliss, Chairman, Columbus, Ohio

REMEMBER ON THE 8th OF NOVEMBER

That Experience Counts

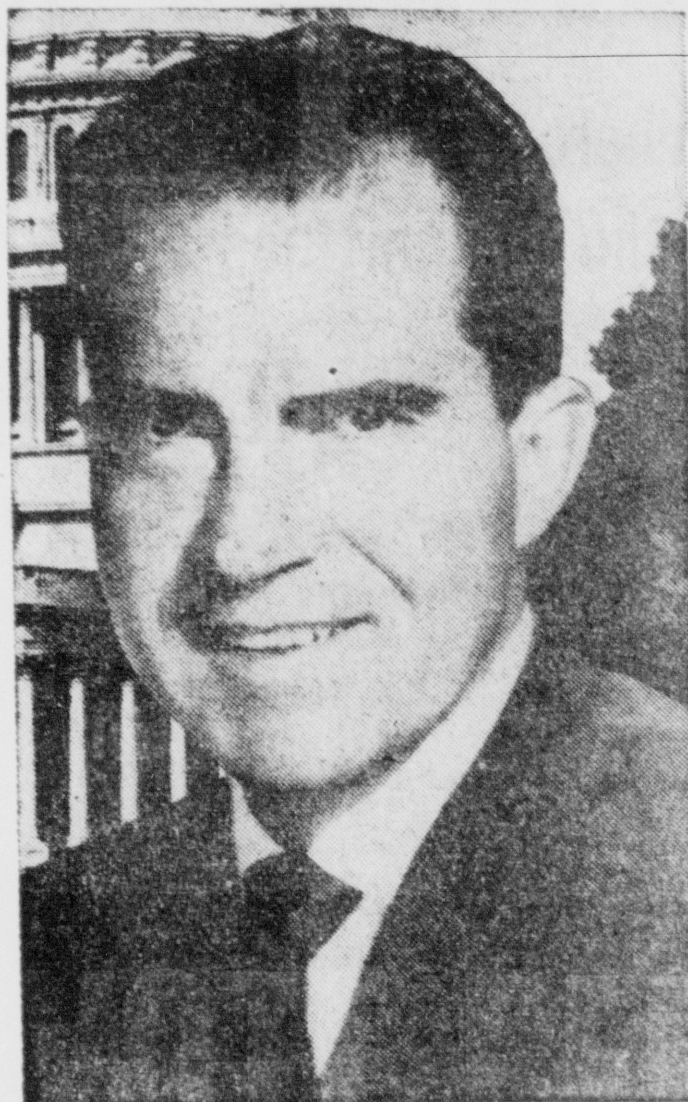

THAT the Eisenhower-Nixon administration has restored peace, strengthened the bonds among the nations of the Free World, and ended the expansion of the Communist empire;

THAT the Eisenhower-Nixon administration has built the greatest defense force in the world;

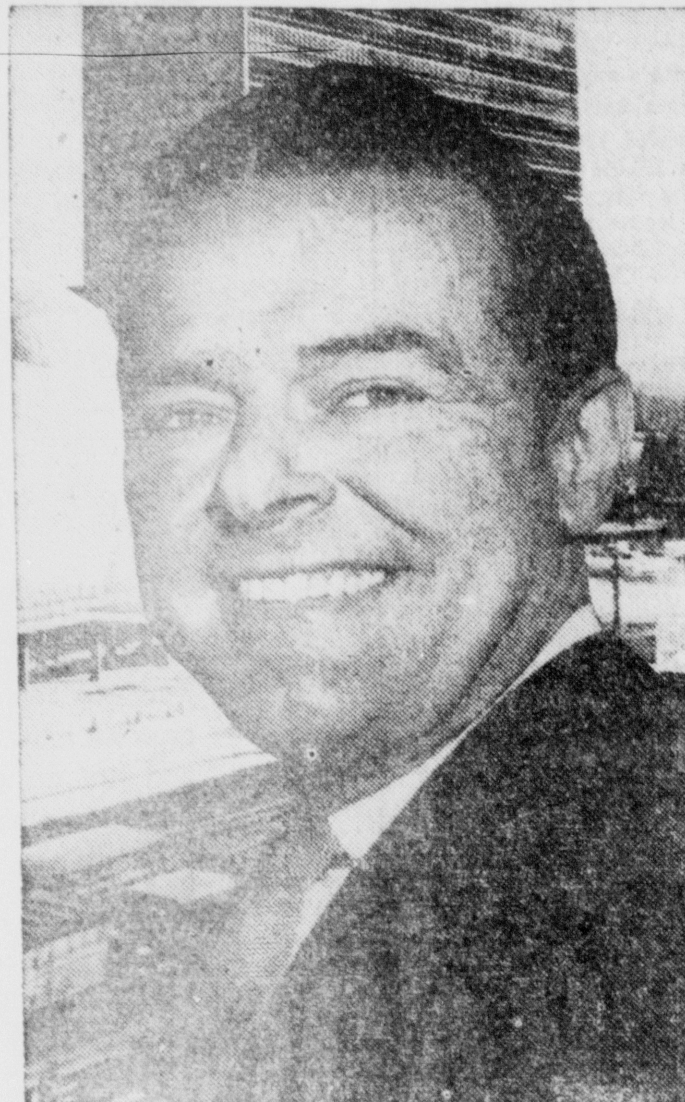

THAT the Nixon farm program emphasizes freedom and opportunity for farmers, rather than harsh controls and regimentation;

THAT since 1913 Democrat Congresses have voted 14 of 15 income tax increases, while Republican Congresses have voted 7 tax reductions and one tax increase;

THAT Senator Kennedy's "New Frontiers" program would require additional federal taxes, under present conditions, in an amount equal to $1,200 per family in four years.

Richard M. Nixon

Henry Cabot Lodge

THAT Democrat Governor "High-Tax-Mike" DiSalle and his Democrat-controlled Legislature in 1959 increased taxes which cost the average Ohio family of four $98.40 more a year;

THAT new and increased taxes, direct and indirect, amount to nearly $240 million dollars a year;

THAT the Democrat-controlled Legislature also handed "High-Tax-Mike" a record-breaking appropriation bill authorizing the spending of approximately Two Billion Dollars in two years;

THAT comparison of the taxing and spending record of the present Democrat Legislature with the prior record of the Republican Legislature from 1951 to 1959 will prove that we need a return to common sense in both our taxing and spending program in Ohio.

THAT a Republican President for the next 4 years needs a Republican Congress to assure passage of his constructive program for America.

Record Crowd Is Expected By Browns

CLEVELAND (AP) — The largest crowd ever to attend a professional football game in Cleveland is expected at Municipal Stadium Sunday afternoon when the Cleveland Browns clash with the New York Giants for the first time this season.

The Browns announced Friday night that 5,000 tickets for standing room at the game will go on sale at the gates at 1 p.m. Sunday — one hour before game time. Sale of all the tickets would push the crowd to more than 83,000, compared with the stadium's pro football record of 82,769 set in 1948 when the Browns beat the San Francisco 49ers, 14-7.

The stadium's seating capacity of 78,166 was sold out in advance for the first time in the Browns' history.

Losers of five straight games to the Giants in the last two seasons, the Browns were in high spirits following the last lengthy practice of the week Friday at League Park. The general feeling of the club was that it's overdue for a victory over the defending champions of the National Football League's eastern division.

Coach Jim Lee Howell of the Giants still has not decided whether Charley Conerly, his veteran quarterback, will play against the Browns. Whether Conerly will start will depend on how he does in a short drill in New York today and in pre-game throwing Sunday.

Conerly, bothered by a sore right elbow, has not played since the first half of the Giants' 24-24 tie with the Washington Redskins Oct. 16.

George Shaw will get the call at quarterback if Conerly is unable to play.

4 of Ohio's Top 10 Teams Taste Defeat

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Associated Press high school football ratings may be due for a shakeup next week. Four of the top 10 teams came out on the losing end Friday night.

The losers: Lima Senior, Marion Harding, Warren Harding and Salem.

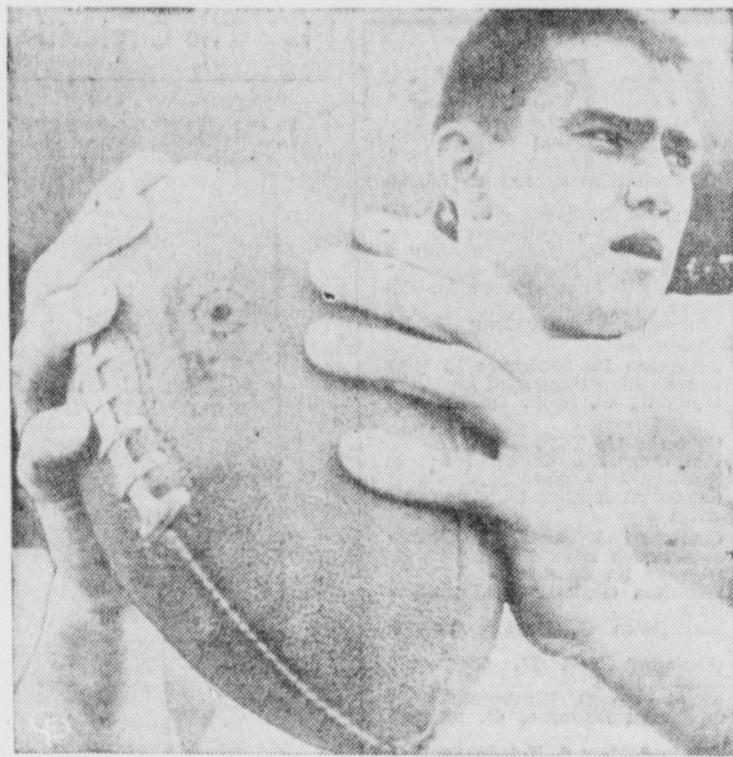

Second-ranked Lima lost a heart-breaker to ninth-rated Springfield South, 22-21. Springfield led 14-13 at the half and after a scoreless third period, Lima went ahead 21-14 with 4:13 to go.

But after the ensuing kickoff, Springfield drove 70 yards with Mike Cobb going over the goal line from the two. Tom Fugate then ran the ball for a two-point conversion, with this clock showing 2:03 remaining, to give Springfield the one-point margin of victory. It was Lima's first loss in nine games, including a tie.

Here's Friday night's top 10 scoreboard:

1. Massillon won 56-14 over Toledo Waite.
2. Lima Senior lost 22 - 21 to Springfield South.
3. Alliance won 54-38 over Steubenville.
4. Sandusky won 34-20 over Findlay.
5. Marion Harding lost its first game in eight starts, including a tie, 40-14 to Fremont Ross.
6. Warren Harding lost 44-14 to Sharon, Pa.
7. Niles plays Youngstown Chaney today.
8. Salem lost its first game in nine starts, 8-6 to East Liverpool.
9. Springfield South, won 22-21 over Lima Senior.
10. Cincinnati Roger Bacon won 54-8 over Columbus East.

Horse trainer Robert A. (Whistling Bob) Smith, who died in 1943 at the age of 73, also dabbled in boxing. He was the manager of lightweight Frank Erne.

The big fullback rammed for 11 yards, then four plays later ripped through the line, shook off several tacklers and went into the end zone. Hankinson's run for points after was smothered.

THE Franklin Heights deadly short kick then dampened things for the locals. The Falcons grabbed the elusive ball and scored a few minutes later behind the running of that man Gabriel. The Falcon blitzer also tallied the extra points on a run.

As Coach Carl Benhase put it, "we were looking for that next short kick, but there was nothing we could do about it." Again the surging invaders swarmed over the soft boot and the outcome was the same—another FH score.

Oakland Grid Pros Shaken

Team Loses Game, Plenty of Cash Too

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The American Football League's Oakland franchise, one of the key outposts for the new circuit in its dollar battle with the established National League, is being shaken by internal rumblings amid reports the club will lose $400,000 this season.

Squabbling among owners of the Raiders, who dropped a 34-28 decision to Boston Friday night in one of two games on the AFL program, was further amplified when it was reported that General Manager Chet Soda has threatened to move the franchise out of Oakland.

Soda, one of the eight co-owners of the AFL club which is in direct competition with the NFL San Francisco 49ers, said unless some final plans could be made for an Oakland stadium "we might have to think of moving elsewhere."

Another co-owner, Robert Osborne—also a member of the Oakland City Council—castigated his partners by terming some members of the group "cry babies who don't like losing money that they had known and anticipated they were going to lose."

While the Raiders were losing at Boston, the Los Angeles Chargers defeated the New York Titans 21-7 and took over the Western Division lead with a 5-3 record, a half-game in front of Denver.

The Broncos get a chance to pull even when they meet Eastern Division-leading Houston (5-2) in a Sunday game at Denver. Dallas is at Buffalo to round out the weekend schedule.

Ashville's Power Stops Scioto Unit

The Ashville Broncos had horse power to spare last night as they defeated an inexperienced Scioto eleven in a 28-8 contest on the Fairgrounds field in their final game of the season for both teams.

Scioto entered its eight points on the scoreboard during the last two minutes of play.

The Bronco squad had four men to lug the pigskin for the scoring work. They scored once in the first quarter, twice in the second and once in the final.

Dick Noggle ran 80 yards for the initial TD of the game in the first quarter. QB Jim Gregg gained the bonus points.

HALFBACK Bill Cromley boosted the scoreboard in the third play of the second quarter with another six points. Noggle cleared the goal for another TD as a follow-up in the second canto.

Halftime score was 22-0 as Scioto received the kick-off. The small Buffalo squad managed to hold the Broncos back until the final quarter.

Fullback Dan Hollenbach scored on a 12-yard smash in the first play of the last quarter. Cromley attempted the bonus points, but without success.

The Ashville squad charged for a total of 352 yards on the ground. Scioto had 75 yards, 35 of which were in the air.

The Broncos attempted only seven passes and completed none; Scioto attempted 32 and connected on seven.

This is how the scoreboard looked for the 1960 Bronco season;

Opening game Ashville was defeated by Amanda, 26-0; won over Triad, 6-0; Cedarville contest was a 6-6 tie; defeated Mt. Sterling, 26-0; Madison South won 26-8; West Jefferson won, 12 - 0; defeated Greenville, 56-12; won over Jonathan Alder, 14-6 and finished with last night's victory, 28-8.

Respectable Beats

STUTTGART, Ark. (AP) — Beatniks achieved a respectability of sorts on the social page of the Stuttgart Daily Leader.

Writing about a far-out party at the country club, the newspaper's society editor referred to the merry-makers as "beatniks".

McClain Wins 18-12 Battle At Washington

Greenfield McClain ringed in at least a tie for the South Central League title last night with a bruising 18-12 victory at Washington C. H.

The McClain Clan, 5-0 in the loop and 6-3 overall, can tuck the crown away for the second straight year with a win over Hillsboro Friday. It was the first league loss for WCH.

In other league action, Circleville made a fine comeback to deadlock Franklin Heights, 20-20. The Tigers led, 20-0, going into the final quarter, but saw the visiting Falcons explode for three quick touchdowns.

Last week Circleville suffered a 73-6 trouncing at Springfield North. The same Springfield team was pressed to beat Franklin Heights, 14-6, a couple of weeks ago.

TWO other SCO games last night saw Wilmington hand Hillsboro a 20-3 defeat. Wayne Murphy of Hillsboro kicked the school's first field goal in modern grid history.

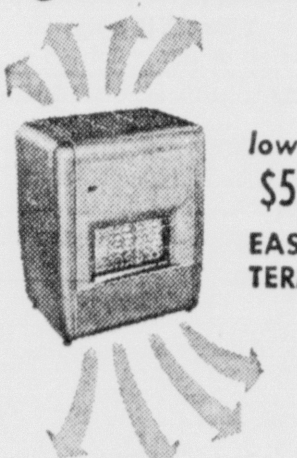

Pleasant View, Circleville's opponent next week, defeated Paint Valley, 34-26. The Tigers bumped Paint Valley, 46-20, in their first game of the season.

Bill Daddio, Notre Dame end coach, is an alumnus of Pittsburg.

Browns Favored To Trip Giants

But Cleveland Recalls Last Year's Upset

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"We just didn't belong on the same field with the Giants"—Paul Brown, Cleveland coach, Dec. 6, 1959.

If the date doesn't register, it was the day the Giants beat Brown's injury-riddled Cleveland Browns 48-7 to wrap up New York's second straight eastern division title in the National Football League.

The Browns (4-1) and Giants (3-1) are on the same field again Sunday and the question now is do the Giants belong there?

The Browns, who share the eastern lead with the Philadelphia Eagles, are 7-point favorites to beat the Giants before approximately 80,000 in Cleveland's Municipal Stadium.

The Eagles (4-1) will be all alone at the top if the Giants can pull an upset, and if the Eagles whip the visiting Pittsburgh Steelers (2-3-1). The Eagles are considered a touchdown better than Pittsburgh.

The big game in the Western Conference is the first-place meeting at Baltimore where the defending champion Colts (4-2) attempt to overtake the Green Bay Packers (4-1). The Colts are 8-point favorites to knock off the Packers who upset them 35-21 at Green Bay Oct. 9. The Chicago Bears (3-2-1) are idle.

Elsewhere, in a full six-game card, the St. Louis Cardinals (3-3) are home favorites by a TD over the Washington Redskins (1-2-2), the Los Angeles Rams (1-4-1) get the nod by 11 over the Cowboys (0-6) at Dallas and the San Francisco 49ers (3-3) are rated 7 better than the visiting Detroit Lions (1-4).

Nats Enthused About Move To St. Paul

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The ex-Washington Senators are brimful with optimism over their new home but worried about Camilo Pascual.

Owner Calvin Griffith, transplanting his American League club to Minneapolis-St. Paul, wants to send his ace pitcher to the Mayo Clinic for an examination.

Pascual injured his arm the latter part of the season and apparently has not recovered fully. Pascual is the anchor man of a staff Griffith admitted "needs four or five new faces." The owner told newsmen Friday he looks to Pascual, Pete Ramos, Don Lee, Chuck Stobbs and Jack Kralick to serve as the core of his staff.

He expects a couple rookies to help, among them hard-throwing Ralph Lumenti, "who has to convince himself he's a major league pitcher." But nobody, so far, has shown much willingness to talk trade with Griffith except the fellows who want to grab his stars like catcher Earl Batey and Pascual. "We are powerful in the outfield, have a strong catcher in Batey and expect Zorro Versalles to make us sound at shortstop," said Griffith.

Jockey Howard Grant and his agent, Steve Vaonakis, are going into the horse breeding business. They have purchased one share in Sailor's Guide who enters stud next season at Meadowview Farm, Moorestown, N. J.

Have You Ever Asked This Man for Help and Been Refused?

Ed Wallace operated a bakery business in Circleville for 40 years.

He has never been an "inner and outer". His business life and membership in many church, school, lodge and community organizations have been of long tenure.

Ed Wallace is interested in the individual problems of the people he represents.

Which has resulted in going with many individuals to the source of their troubles and getting immediate action favorable to the people he represented.

Ed Wallace has always been community-minded. He is a long time and faithful member of:

Pickaway County Farm Bureau	First Methodist Church
Mt. Pleasant Grange	Methodist Men's Club
Rotary Club	Chamber of Commerce
Masonic Lodges	Pickaway Co. Historical Society
Redmen	Eagles
President of Pickaway Co.	Pickaway Co. Farmers &
Real Estate Board	Sportsmen Club
Pickaway County Agriculture Society

This indicates his interest in local organizations, even to the extent that he has met regularly with local farm, school, and other groups in order that their problems will receive his best legislative help.

Ed Wallace is experienced as a State Representative

Which has given him contacts and prestige to the extent that he is now on the following important Legislative Committees: Agriculture, Conservation (Chairman of this Committee), Public Improvements and Inspection, and the Rotary Fund Committee.

Ed Wallace is neither financed nor instructed in what to do or say from State Political Party Headquarters in Columbus.

This means Ed Wallace is standing on his own integrity and ingenuity. When Ed Wallace returns to the Legislature, he will be, as always, a man unbiased and unbossed, operating according to the dictates of his own conscience. Will his opponent be able to do this?

Ed Wallace voted for the new school finance law.

Which has provided $60,000.00 more state money for Pickaway County schools in 1960 than would have been granted under the 1959 law.

Ed Wallace believes that real estate is now taxed to the limit.

He, therefore, will be influential in seeking ways for tax money other than on real estate to obtain money for new school construction and operation.

Ed Wallace has formed a Pickaway County Citizens School Tax Committee.

Its members are searching for ways other than real estate taxes to finance school construction and school operation costs. The results of this committee will be valuable for school finance legislation which Ed Wallace will propose at the next Legislative session.

The absentee record of Ed Wallace at official roll call is one of the lower on record during more recent sessions of the Ohio House of Representatives.

This indicates Ed Wallace's interest as a Legislator. In spite of his busy life with duties on the various committees, he found time to attend the important roll calls.

Ed Wallace has been through the battle of re-districting several times.

Therefore, his past experience, present influence, and prestige are invaluable in future battles of re-districting. Here experience is most vital in getting the job done.

The Ohio House of Representatives is composed of 139 members with each member striving to get the most possible for his county interests.

Certainly a man with Ed Wallace's experience and know-how will accomplish more for his people than a man of no legislative experience.

From the above facts YOU SEE Ed Wallace as an interested, experienced, capable and influential member of the Ohio House of Representatives.

YOU HEAR other county representatives of both major political parties say that they respect him as they seek his counsel and support.

YOU FEEL that Ed Wallace has been an influential, aggressive state representative with the height of his value to come at the next session of the Legislature.

YOU THINK his experience is most important to the people of Pickaway County in getting the best possible representation.
